The Movie

This is a charming, gentle film without dialogue. The animation is uncluttered, using a simple collage style. The story is underpinned by a whimsical musical score with lots of solo trombone and trumpet interspersed with humorous xylophone runs. The music is also inspired by traditional sound effects.

We meet a man who simply wants to enjoy his life. He thinks that the way to solve this problem is to leave the city behind him and live alone on a desert island. After floating aimlessly on the open seas he finds himself washed up on the shore of his very own homeland. His neighbours are happy as they had missed him and he is happy to be able to return to a place he knows despite having to share it with his fellow men. In the end he learns that no man is an island.
